1 PURPOSE

- 1.1 This procedure establishes the process for relying on an external IRB for review of human subject research in which UC Davis is engaged.
 - 1.1.1 IRB Administration receives notice that UC Davis is being asked to rely on external IRB.
 - 1.1.2 The procedure ends when the research subject to IRB review is completed and/or closed, or the written agreement establishing the relationship of reliance is otherwise terminated under its terms and conditions.

2 REVISIONS FROM PREVIOUS VERSION

- 2.1 Administrative Updates
- 2.2 Added information relating to 21 CFR 50.24 review and reports of unanticipated problems involving risks to subjects or others and serious or continuing non-compliance.
- 2.3 Added that PIs should contact the UC Davis IRB for changes that affect local context. Specified that master reliance agreements will be maintained in an electronic archive. Administrative updates.

3 POLICY

- 3.1 Circumstances arise in which an investigator at UC Davis may rely on an external IRB for review and oversight of human subject research in which UC Davis is engaged.
- 3.2 UC Davis will cede IRB review only to IRBs that are accredited by a recognized accrediting organization or otherwise have a process for ensuring compliance with ethical principles, applicable law and guidance.
- 3.3 The UC Davis IRB must approve the reliance and sign a reliance agreement before UC Davis faculty, employees or students can engage in human subject research under the oversight of an external IRB.
- 3.4 The UC Davis IRB must conduct an institutional review of human subject research that includes an exception to the requirement for informed consent under 21 CFR 50.24 before ceding.

4 RESPONSIBILITIES:

- 4.1 UC Davis IRB staff members, Principal Investigators, Independent Investigators, and IRB Chairs and members carry out these procedures.

5. PROCEDURES

- 5.1 IRB staff members will review inquiries for reliance on external IRBs for review of human subject research:
 - 5.1.1 If the human subject research is minimal risk, the staff member may agree to external review subject to a signed IRB Reliance Agreement.
 - 5.1.2 If the human subject research is greater than minimal risk and the reviewing IRB is accredited by AAHRPP or equivalent body, the staff member may agree to external review subject to a signed IRB Reliance Agreement.
 - 5.1.3 If the human subject research is greater than minimal risk and the reviewing IRB is not accredited by AAHRPP or an equivalent body, the Director or Associate Director may agree to external review subject to a signed IRB Reliance Agreement from the external IRB and existence of a process for ensuring ethical and compliant review.
- 5.2 IRB staff members will review the IRB Reliance Agreement provided by the external IRB.
 - 5.2.1. UC Davis and the reviewing IRB will take maximum advantage of other existing reliance agreements. Existing master reliance agreements will be retained in an electronic archive of reliance documentation. If the human subject research is subject to an existing agreement such as the NCI IRB, Neuronext or SMART IRB agreement, go to Section 5.3.
 - 5.2.2. If the reviewing IRB provides its template agreement, the IRB staff member will review the document using HRP-334 WORKSHEET: Reliance Agreement. The IRB staff member will work with the external IRB to create an acceptable agreement. Once the document is acceptable, IRB staff will forward the worksheet and agreement to the UC Davis IRB Director

- 5.2.4. The IRB staff member will return the fully executed agreement to the external IRB with a copy to the UC Davis Investigator and will include the following contingency in the correspondence:
UC Davis must administratively review and acknowledge the protocol, consent document and approval letter before UC Davis faculty, staff and students are engaged in human subject research reviewed by an external IRB.

- 5.3 The Investigator or research staff will submit a new project to the UC Davis IRB via the electronic submission system.
